Dear Mr Rodi Orantia

Thank you for your correspondence of 09 June 2026, originally directed to the Attorney General, concerning capital gains tax (CGT) changes. Your correspondence has been referred to the Treasury.

I appreciate the time you have taken to share your thoughts about the tax reform. Treasury welcomes suggestions from members of the public and regularly provides advice to the Government on matters regarding the tax system. Your correspondence will help inform that advice.

As you can appreciate, tax policy can involve challenging trade-offs between the efficiency, simplicity and fairness of the tax system, while also ensuring that enough revenue is raised to enable the provision of services the community values.

Once again, thank you for taking the time to write.

Yours sincerely

Individuals and Indirect Tax and Superannuation Division
